orderTalk, Inc. to sponsor
2017 Multi-Unit Restaurant Technology Conference

FLOWER MOUND, Texas (December 19, 2016) – orderTalk, Inc., the original provider of digital ordering solutions for the restaurant industry worldwide, has announced its sponsorship of the 22nd Annual Multi-Unit Restaurant Technology Conference (MURTEC), March 7-9, 2017 at the Rio All Suite Hotel & Casino in Las Vegas.

Produced by Hospitality Technology, MURTEC has become the must-attend event for education and networking in the restaurant technology industry. Hosting more than 700 restaurant technology executives and solution providers, the conference includes a mix of engaging speakers, educational sessions and informative workshops.

“MURTEC is one of the largest events in the restaurant technology industry. We are excited to have a presence there and to partner with them as a sponsor,” said Patrick Eldon, CEO of orderTalk, which is a silver sponsor. “The benefits of this conference are immeasurable from a technology and educational standpoint. Attendees will come away with an incredible amount of useful ideas, valuable data and best practices. We look forward to participating.”

Restaurant leaders and top tech providers are among those who will attend, as well as executives in technology, finance, operations, marketing and franchise and independent operators of full-service, fast casual and quick-service brands. MURTEC is a top industry event because of its strong focus on providing participants with a space to learn, collaborate and foster ideas with the industry’s finest.
